Nombre del alumno: Leonarda Isabel Gutiérrez salvador.

Nombre del profesor: L.G.T. Jezabel Ivonne Silvestre Montejo.

Nombre del trabajo: Mapa conceptual.

Materia: ingles.

Grado: 1 cuatrimestre.

Grupo: "A"

DEMONSTRATIVE PRONOUNS.

- Types of demostrative pronouns
  - They can be grouped as follows
    - Masculine plurals
      - Those, these, those.
    - Singular masculine
      - That, this, that
    - neutral
      - This, that, that.
    - Adverbs
      - Here, here, there, there, there.
    - Singular feminine
      - That, this, that.
    - Femenine plurals
      - These, those, those.
- Demonstrative pronouns of the first degree
  - Indicate a proximity of the aforementioned with respect to the issuer
- Demonstrative pronouns of the second degree
  - Express the closeness of what is indicated whith espect to the receiver (that, that, that, those, those).
- Indicate
  - Where is an object
    - About who speaks
      - For example.
        - The receiver deduces that the one that is near the emitter is the one that is broken away is the one that closes well.
        - This window is broken, but that one closes fine
- They are
  - Words that are used to allude to a subject without having to mention it.
    - These
      - Pronouns allow to indicate distance or closeness with respect to the emitter.
        - For example: this, that, these, those.
- Demostrative pronouns of the third degree
  - Denote closeness for the sender and receiver (that, that, that those, those)