3. Did you have a favorite teacher in elementary school?

4. What hobbies did you have when you were a kid?

5. When did you begin to learn English?

A Scan the article about Rodrigo Santoro. Where is he from? What does he do?

Rodrigo Santoro was born in 1975 in Petrópolis, near Rio de Janeiro, Brazil. As a child, he used to organize puppet performances during family vacations. When he was studying communications in college, he started acting in television soap operas, such as Olho no Olho in 1993 and Hilda Furacão in 1998.

After his success in soap operas, Santoro started acting in Brazilian films. His first big role was in Bicho de Sete Cabeças in 2001. The movie is about a young man who is wrongly kept in a mental hospital. For this role, he won the Best Actor Award at the Cartagena Film Festival. This success led to Hollywood. In 2003, Santoro acted in three movies: Charlie's Angels: Full Throttle, with Drew Barrymore; The Roman Spring of Mrs. Stone, with Helen Mirren; and Love Actually, with Hugh Grant. His performance as King Xerxes of Persia in the movie 300 was nominated as Best Villain at the MTV Movie Awards in 2007.

During this time, Santoro continued working in Brazil. In 2003, he starred in Carandiru, a film about a prison in São Paulo. He was nominated as Best Actor at the Prêmio Contigo Cinema for his performance in the 2007 film Não Por Acaso. More recently, he performed the role of President Raúl Castro of Cuba in Che: Part Two (2008) and that of Oriol in There Be Dragons (2011).

With this heavy workload, Santoro balances his life in Rio de Janeiro by reading, listening to music, and meditating. He also loves sports. In 2008, he played soccer with such international stars as Luís Figo and Alan Shearer for Soccer Aid, a charity that raises money for the United Nations Children's Fund (UNICEF). ■

Getting Around Hong Kong

Hong Kong has an excellent transportation system. If you fly there, you will arrive at one of the most modern airports in the world. And during your visit, there are many ways to get around Hong Kong.

- These have run in the streets of Hong Kong Island since 1904. They have two decks, and they carry 230,000 passengers a day. You can travel on six routes, totaling 30 kilometers (about 19 miles). You can also hire one for a private party with up to 25 guests – a great way to enjoy Hong Kong!
- Take one of these to cross from Hong Kong Island to Kowloon or to visit one of the other islands. You can also use them to travel to Macau and Guangdong. They are very safe and comfortable, and one of the cheapest boat rides in the world.
- Hong Kong's underground railway is called the MTR – the Mass Transit Railway. It is the fastest way to get around. You can catch one from the airport to all the major centers in Hong Kong. The MTR carries 2.3 million passengers a day.
- This is found on Hong Kong Island. It pulls you up Victoria Peak, which is 552 meters (about 1,800 feet) above sea level, the highest mountain on the island. The system is over 120 years old. In that time, there has never been an accident. Two cars carry up to 120 passengers each.

B Complete the chart about each type of transportation. Where you cannot find the information, write NG (not given).

A Scan the article about making wishes. Which three countries does it refer to?

Making Wishes

All over the world, people have always wished for things, such as peace, love, good health, and money. Over hundreds of years, people in different countries have found different ways to make wishes. Here are some interesting examples.

The Trevi Fountain in Rome, Italy, is a place where many people go to make a wish. The water from the fountain flows into a large pool of water below. To make a wish, visitors stand facing away from the fountain. Then, they use their right hand to throw a coin into the pool over their left shoulder. They believe this will bring them luck and bring them back to Rome one day. The coins in the fountain, several thousand euros each day, are given to poor people.

A very different way of making wishes happens in Anhui province in eastern China. Huangshan (which means "Yellow Mountain") is famous for its beautiful sunrises and sunsets. That's why people think it is a very romantic place. Couples go there to make a wish that they will stay together forever. Each couple buys a "love lock," or padlock, with a key. Next, they lock their padlock to a chain at the top of the mountain. Then they throw the key down the mountain so that their lock can never be opened.

In Turkey and some neighboring countries, May 5 is a special day for making wishes. People believe that each year on that day two wise men return to earth. They come to help people and give them good health. In the evening, there are street food markets selling different kinds of seasonal food and musicians playing traditional music. People write their wishes on pieces of paper and then attach the paper to a tree. Nowadays, however, some people go online and send their wishes to special websites.

FOOD ALLERGIES

Luis always had headaches and stomachaches. First, Luis's doctor gave him some medicine, but it didn't work. Then his doctor asked him about his favorite foods. Luis said he loved cake and ice cream. His doctor said, "Stop eating sweets." Luis stopped, but he still got headaches and stomachaches. Next, his doctor asked more questions about his diet. Luis said he ate a lot of fish. His doctor said to stop eating fish. When Luis stopped eating fish, he felt much better.

Sharon often had a very sore mouth after eating. First, she stopped drinking milk and eating cheese, but this made no difference. Then, in the summer, the problem became really bad, and it was difficult for Sharon to eat. Her doctor asked about her diet. She said she had a tomato garden, and she ate about 10 tomatoes a day. Sharon's doctor told her not to eat tomatoes. When she stopped eating tomatoes, Sharon's mouth got better.

Fred is a mechanic, but he was not able to hold his tools. His hands were swollen. First, he went to his doctor, and she gave him some medicine. The medicine didn't work. He still couldn't hold his tools. After that, his doctor asked him about his diet. Fred told her he ate a lot of bread. She told him not to eat bread or pasta. After 10 days, Fred could hold his tools again.

A Scan the article. What are some ways to get children to do chores?

Helping out at home

In many families, household chores can be a problem. Who does them? Who should do them? In the past, many women stayed at home and did all the chores. Husbands went out to work and expected their wives to clean and cook. Nowadays, though, more and more women have jobs outside the home. So most people think that both wives and husbands should share responsibility for doing household chores. But what about kids? Should children help their parents around the house? If so, how old should they be when they start? How often should they help? And should they get money for helping?

Many people agree that children should help around the house. Doing chores is one way that children can learn to take responsibility for the mess they make. Some even say that young children should help in the home. They can do easy jobs – a child of six or seven years old, for example, can help do the laundry by separating dark-colored and light-colored clothes.

One problem is making sure that children and teenagers help regularly with chores. To solve this problem, some people suggest making a list of household chores, either on paper or on a computer spreadsheet. The list can have four parts: daily chores (such as doing the dishes), weekly chores (washing the car), monthly chores (cleaning the refrigerator), and yearly chores (cleaning the garage). Another suggestion to make sure that children do jobs around the house is to pay them. Some people say that this helps children and teenagers learn how to manage money, but others think it's wrong to pay kids to help because they are part of the family. After all, no one pays Mom or Dad to do the chores!

B Read the article. Then answer these questions.

1. Why do some people think that both wives and husbands should do household chores?

2. Why do many people think that children should do some chores?

3. What kinds of chores can young children do?

4. What reasons are given for and against paying young people to do chores?

New forms of energy

A Scan the article. Why do we need new forms of energy? According to the article, which countries produce each new form of energy?

THE FUTURE OF ENERGY

Energy is very important in modern life. People use energy to run machines, heat or cool their homes, cook, provide light, and transport people and products. Most energy nowadays comes from fossil fuels – petroleum, coal, and natural gas. However, burning fossil fuels causes pollution. Scientists are working to find other kinds of energy for the future. What might these sources of energy be?

Energy from wind All over the world, people use the power of wind. It turns windmills and moves sailboats. It is a clean source of energy, and there is lots of it, particularly in countries such as the Netherlands and Denmark. Unfortunately, if the wind does not blow, there is no wind energy.

Energy from water When water moves from a high place to a lower place, it makes energy. This energy creates electricity without pollution through the use of dams and water turbines. Laos plans to build 55 dams and become the “battery” of southeast Asia. Dams, however, cost a lot of money to build, so water energy is expensive.

Energy from the earth There is heat in rocks under the earth. Scientists use this heat to make geothermal energy. In Iceland, 87 percent of the population enjoys central heating from this energy source – and it costs less than half the price of using oil for central heating. Moreover, geothermal energy does not pollute. The problem is location – it’s only available in a few places in the world.

Energy from the sun Solar panels on the roofs of houses can turn energy from the sun into electricity. These panels can create enough energy to heat or cool an entire house. In fact, some scientists say that if we build solar panels in just 1 percent of the Sahara Desert, in countries such as Algeria and Libya, there will be enough electricity for the entire world. However, solar energy is expensive to export.

Energy from living organisms Living organisms, such as plants and algae, can produce energy that is called biofuel. By 2017, about 90 percent of cars in Brazil will have “flex-fuel” engines – they can run on gasoline or biofuels. Biofuels are renewable. For example, sugarcane (used to make ethanol) can be produced every year. But some people say we should use farmland to produce food, not biofuels.

B Read the article. What is one advantage and one disadvantage of each type of energy? Complete the chart.

	Advantage	Disadvantage
wind power	_____	_____
water power	_____	_____
geothermal power	_____	_____
solar power	_____	_____
biofuels	_____	_____

A Scan the article. Why is Richard Branson famous?

Richard Branson

Have you ever flown on Virgin Atlantic Airways or used a Virgin Mobile cell phone? Have you booked your place in space with Virgin Galactic? If so, you have put a few more dollars in Richard Branson's pocket.

Born in Britain in 1950, Richard Branson is a world-famous businessman, entrepreneur, adventurer, and billionaire. He's best known for his charismatic personality. He's flamboyant, exciting, and personable – and he's never been afraid to take a risk.

Branson didn't have an ordinary teenage life, however. His dyslexia, or difficulty with reading and writing, made school a constant struggle. Despite this challenge, he started a national magazine called Student when he was only 16 years old. At 17, he decided to set up a student advisory center to help other young people.

Branson started the now-famous Virgin brand in the music industry in 1970. He began by opening a mail-order company that sold records at discount prices. Two years later, he built a recording studio and took chances on new musicians that no other recording companies would sign. In 1992, Branson sold Virgin Records for $1 billion. By then, he had moved into many other industries, including publishing, beverages, and air travel. Today, the Virgin Group comprises about 200 companies in 30 countries and employs about 50,000 people.

Virgin Atlantic Airways, which Branson started in 1984, has long been Britain's second-largest international airline. However, Branson has always dreamed about flying even higher. In 2004, he founded a space tourism company called Virgin Galactic. Anyone with $200,000 to spare can go online and book a ticket to travel in space in the future.

Even when Branson isn't working, he enjoys flying high – and breaking records. In 1991, he broke the world speed record for traveling in a hot air balloon from Japan to Canada. Seven years later, he attempted to be first to circle the world in a balloon nonstop. But bad weather forced his team to stop, and they landed near Hawaii. In his typically positive way, Branson said, "The important thing is that, in the last seven days, we've just had the greatest adventure of our lifetimes." Branson certainly knows how to enjoy life to its fullest.
