A bad day.

I started working very early it was a rainy day in La Trinitaria ... which I fell asleep and left the transport. I had to walk in the rain late to work which my boss was upset to be late for .

It happened due to the rainy weather, it was cold and perhaps that was what made me sleep longer ...

I arrived at work on a heavy day, there was an inventory because the medicine came in the day it was still rainy and there was a lot of firmness and the office was full of patients that day. I could not even eat less breakfast at the end of the day I left my husband it was for me coming home to prepare food I lived with my children and accompanied my husband to the family business ...

that day sales were very few due to the weather and the pandemic that there is at the end of the day go to the cyber to do some school work which the internet is very slow ...

I had no access to my platform so I could not do my homework I went home with my children we did a rich family dinner then take a bath and we talk about the stormy and rainy day that we both had..

Conclusion: g

a bad day and a bad weather makes us feel like not doing many good things since the weather is very important for everyone, be it for your own jobs or being employees of an establishment ... but you have to have the best attitude now that not everything is forever enjoy every day ....
