

REDMI NOTE 8
IKOYE

Hello!

I am Salomé, I was born on December 8, 1996.

When I was little I liked to play a lot of stuffed animals.

I didn't fall asleep early and I liked waking up very late.

I used to throw a lot of tantrums because they didn't take me and I was used to it.

My mom always left me in my crib.

At this time I was about six years old, it was a family afternoon in which we decided to go for a walk in the park. That day a fair arrived where there were horse exhibitions and my parents brought me up to one and took a photo to keep as a souvenir. That was unforgettable.

She is my mom, we were celebrating her birthday and her younger brothers came to visit her. They live a little far, they did not work that day, so they came by surprise with a cake and gifts, to congratulate her. They are very kind and affectionate with her, likewise they wanted to have a souvenir photo which could not be missing.

They are my parents on a very sunny and hot day they went to watch a beautiful sunset in the port. They decided to take a walk to contemplate the beautiful structure of a large ship. Then my dad chose to take my mom going to eat at a very luxurious restaurant pamper her.

This is a great memory, as it was the beginning of a new family.

My parents got married, it was a very happy, fun day in which they decided to share it with their friends and family.

They had a little fellowship in the house, and it was very unforgettable to this day.

This day we were full of joy, as we had the arrival of a new family member. 40 days have passed since my brother was born. This photo is from the day we went to register it, is something memorable. After this act, my uncles and grandparents were eagerly waiting for us there at home to celebrate.

When I was younger, we used going to eat on weekends with the family.

We enjoyed being with my dad because he worked a lot, which is why we almost didn't look at him.

He always makes us very happy with his dedication and love.

I present to you my third brother, his name is Sergio. My parents after my sister's birth wanted to have a child that was conceived until when he was born. He was the first man in both families, so he was very privileged.

It was our graduation day, for that day our parents wanted us to look very pretty, so they sent us going to make the same model.

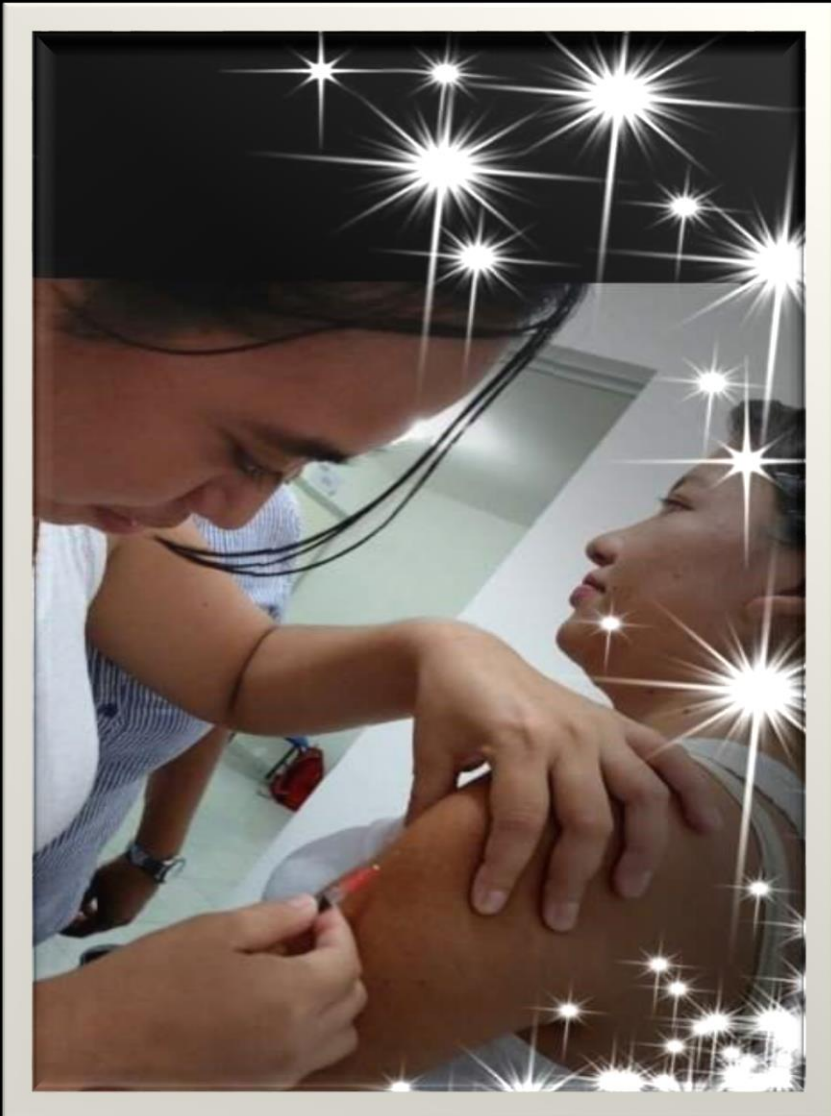

A couple of years ago, we decided with my friends and brothers going to for a walk after a long day at work. We needed distraction so we wanted going to get some tacos and then going to see an action movie.

This was a very different great experience that I liked.

For part of my work I was drawn to do a pharmacy course which was in Comalapa, there I was able to meet new people and we really enjoyed ourselves.

In the afternoons when we left work we would going to eat at different restaurants every day and then we would get to know more landscapes about that place, by the way the weather was very nice there!

I am currently studying the nursing degree career. This is the first time that I had a practice course. I was very proud to do something different and new.

I currently work at Walmart, they are my coworkers. Here we were celebrating my boss's birthday, we bought her a little cake to live with them. She is a good boss, she tries to support me in what she can, she always advises me and she tries to motivate me to finish my school career.
