MEDICAL HISTORY FORM

The medical History form must be completed by the patient and parent before seeing the doctor. The doctor must maintain the form in the file.

WHAT IS THE MEDICAL HISTORY FORM?

It can be very useful for the following:

- It serves to make the doctor-patient relationship effective, and it also helps us to review the patient's History at any time it is needed.
- Medical records help as a monitoring tool for professionals. In the records you can also see the statements that have been taken by the doctors.
- The clinical History of the patients is a legal document. In some case that something legal is presented, that document can serve as some proof.

The medical History must be kept in one place, the patient has the right to have a copy of that document, the document must be kept confidential.

The five main components of the medical History are as follows:

- ❖ Subjective data provided by the patient.
- ❖ Objective data obtained from the physical examination and from the complementary examinations.
- ❖ Diagnosis
- ❖ Forecast
- ❖ Treatment

The clinical History also incorporates the data of your personal and family History, your habits and everything related to your biopsychosocial health. It also includes its evolutionary process, treatment, and recovery.
