When we use “Be going to”

Be going to is commonly used in informal styles

Intentions: We use be going to to talk about future plans and intentions. Usually the decision about the future plans has already been made:

Example: I'm going to look for a new place to live next month.

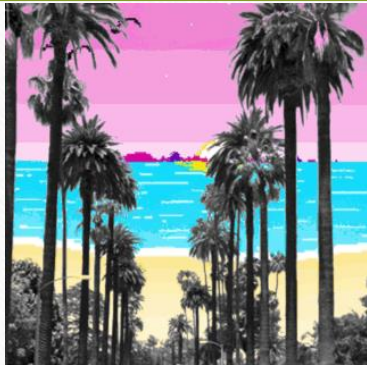

Predictions: We use be going to to predict something that we think is certain to happen or which we have evidence for now:

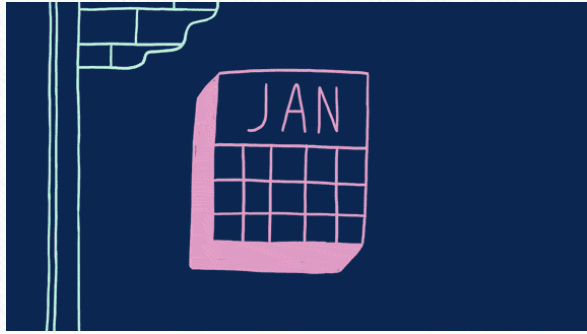

Example: Look out! He's going to break that glass.

Commands: We use be going to when we give commands or state that something is obligatory

Example: You're going to pick up all of those toys right now. This room is a mess!
