The housework that I normally do during the day and the activities that I do often in my free time in the morning are like listening to music since it clears my mind and relaxes me, sometimes what I enjoy the most in the afternoon is reading books such as interesting novels and magazines as well as dancing and jogging. And the housework that I mainly do is washing the dishes, as well as making the beds and fixing the house in the morning, sweeping the garden and preparing my family's food. Another of the household chores that I don't do very often is going out to shop.
