A comparative of superiority serves to express something that is more than another whether they are people or things, it can also be defined as an adjective of superiority because we remember that an adjective is what accompanies the noun to express a quality of a thing designated by him. It is believed to be comparative by the use of the word "more than". we can find that in short adjectives: if the adjective has one or two syllabs it is considered short. Its comparison is formed by adding the er and than termination. Example: your country is colder than mine.

Others are long adjectives, if the adjective has three syllabs or more it will form with the adverbiation "more" in front of the adjective and the conjunction than behind it i.e. (more + adjective + than).

- ▶ En las comparaciones de superioridad, el adjetivo, que está en la forma comparativa (véase más adelante), es seguido por "than".

Juan is faster than Mark. (Juan corre más rápido que Mark.)

- ▶ En inglés, a la mayoría de los adjetivos se les añade un 'er' al final para formar el comparativo

- ▶ Example

- ▶ My brother's apartment is smaller – El apartamento de mi hermano es más pequeño

- ▶ Los adjetivos de dos o más sílabas forman el comparativo con la estructura the most...

- ▶ Example

Mary is the most intelligent girl in the class.
Mary es la chica más inteligente de la clase.
