Comparative of superiority

well, based on the topic of comparative superiority, it is based on comparatives, in this case in English, what is "more" is used a lot so that you can get one or two syllables as well as its goal is to be the form of " plus". And adjective, thing, animal or person with which we are comparing it from to use the comparative of superiority. For example, to plant a prayer with comparative superiority it would have to be like this example:

Superiority ⇒ more ⇒ adjective ⇒ than Equality ⇒ as ⇒ adjective ⇒ as Inferiority ⇒ less ⇒ adjective ⇒ than.

Like in English, the comparative of superiority can also be in two ways the first would be Adding to the adjective the suffix -er for comparing superiority and -its T for the superlative.

Since right now we will see some examples of how it would look using comparative superiority.

It would be like this, example:

In this case we would use what is the

More, adjective, than

Thing, animal or person with whom we are comparing it

Maria is taller than Juan.

The cheetah is faster than the tortoise.

Since for that the sentence has the most the adjective and the complete one since there are different sentences. But so is a comparative sentence of superiority.
