EJEMPLOS

En las oraciones interrogativas en presente, la pregunta adquiere la siguiente secuencia estructural: "Do/does + pronombre personal + verbo (base) + complementos?".

TIPOS

En los llamados tiempos continuos, que expresan actos durativos, el verbo auxiliar es "to be". Se mantiene esta inversión típica de la forma interrogativa y se incorpora la terminación típica "ing" de los verbos en present continuous (equivalente a nuestro gerundio), y la pregunta adquiere la forma de "Are/is + pronombre personal + presente continuo + complementos?"

TIPOS

En las oraciones interrogativas en pasado simple (past simple), la estructura es esta: "Did + pronombre personal + verbo (base) + complementos?". En las oraciones interrogativas en futuro, la secuencia es "Will/shall + pronombre personal + verbo (base) + complementos?".

TIPOS

En los tiempos pasados no simples, como el present perfect o el past perfect, el verbo auxiliar es "to have" en lugar de "to do". Por este motivo la pregunta en present perfect se construye de la siguiente manera: "Have/has + pronombre personal + participio + complementos?" y en past perfect de esta otra: "Had + pronombre personal + participio + complementos?".
