PROPER AND COMMON NOUNS Y POSSESSIVE `S

También llamado "nombre", el sustantivo es la palabra que utilizamos para nombrar un objeto o cosa, animal, lugar o persona. Si echas un vistazo a todo lo que te rodea, te darás cuenta de que estamos rodeados de sustantivos, pues todas las cosas tienen un nombre que nos ayuda a diferenciarlos del resto. Los sustantivos tienen género (masculino y femenino) y número (singular y plural). Se pueden distinguir los sustantivos en las siguientes categorías: común y propio, concreto y abstracto, contable y no contable, e individual y colectivo.

Sustantivos propios. Designan un lugar particular: un país, un río, un continente, una ciudad, . Siempre se escriben con mayúscula inicial. Por ejemplo: México, Bogotá, Antártida, Nilo, Europa, Berlín.

Sustantivos comunes. Designan a un espacio físico pero no en particular sino en general. Siempre se escriben con minúscula. Por ejemplo: casa, barco, pradera, supermercado.
