ACTIVITIES OF THE SOCIAL WORK PROFESSION

PREVENT: it is about anticipating the possible causes of both individual and collective conflicts. This can be done through intervention projects that allow knowing the population context and the situations of social risk that they present, as well as the deficiencies and needs of the same context.

PROVIDE DIRECT CARE: act with individuals or groups, whether they are at risk or already have a specific problem whose characteristic is social. The goal of direct care is to enhance individual capacities so that it is the same people who face and respond to daily social conflicts.

TO PLAN: planning is a process that introduces forecasting and functions of the social worker at macro and micro levels within an organization. Planning models. It supposes an articulation between objectives, resources and budgets.

PROMOTE PROMOTION AND SOCIAL INSERTION: it is about carrying out the necessary actions to restore or preserve self-determination and functioning, both individual and collective. This can be through the design and implementation of social policies that adjust access to different services.

ROL GERENCIAL: social workers can perform managerial tasks, which have to do with the responsibility of planning and organizing both social centers and the specific they provide.

People helped by a social worker

A social worker helps people deal with the challenges they face in their lives. Some called clinical social workers, are therapists who diagnose and then treat people who have mental, behavioral, and emotional disorders.
