Hello friend...

I am only writg you this letter to tell you that I will not be able to go on the trip to celebrate your brihtday, because I had an accident and the doctor told me to rest for a month, in which the care I must have is to be in bed for a few weeks, take medications, and do a few activities in bed like watching tv, reading or being on being on the cell phone, but I won` t be able to move and get out of bed, munch less be making an effort for which the the doctor`s instructions were. I regret being able to go with you on that trip since it was something that we both had planned but due to not taking good care of myself because an accident happened and well, it means taking care of myself at least until the wound heals a little, I really ask you for a great apology for not going with you and I hope you don` t get upset about this I hope for your understanding and as soon as you can visit me it would do me very well.

I say goodbye to you I wish you a nice trip and happy birthday

I send you a hug and kisses
