Kung fu panda takes place in china, the protagonist is a panda named Po, he worked with his father Mr. Ping in a food place, Po always loved his father and therefore he did not pursue his dreams and continued to be a waiter, He was always infected with ideas of working in a restaurant. Martial arts were always admired in the village and a very important Kung fu festival was approaching, many people would attend and among them Po, to admire the skills of the five mortals, Tigress, Monkey, Mantis, Snake and Grub, all of them Master Shifu's apprentices. Inside the festival was the teacher Oogway who was the wisest of all those present, and he sensed that the dragon warrior was close and it was close and it was Tigress, although by chance Po got in the way and took that position from Tigress and became the Dragon warrior. Everyone distrusted him but by insisting and training, he was able to defeat the feared Tai Lung, he was always a great fighter but he had an evil heart and wanted to obtain the writing to do evil. Finally Po saved everyone in the village and became a humble hero and motivation for everyone.
