I would like to live in Mexico City since it is one of the cities that I like. My house that I would dream of having is two floors, simple on the outside and with a large parking lot and a few windows, a small garden because out there I would like to have pets and my cars.

Just like I would like the outside to have a terrace for sunbathing

Inside, I would have two very simple bedrooms because I don't like luxuries. In the first bedroom, I would have a single bed with a carpet and a lamp, pillows, and some pictures to give a view, and a small chair.

and a small door to go out to the terrace

The second bedroom would have a double bed with a mirror and a wardrobe, a carpet and a lamp, and some pillows and blankets.

In the bathroom it would have an electric shower with a mirror and a sink and toilet and a small rug as well as including shampoo, bath soaps and towels.

In my living room I would have a large sofa, just a few comfortable chairs and a small table to place snacks or some magazines or books and a large television

Finally, the kitchen would be a large and integral kitchen with a fridge, dishes, forks and a stove to cook and a large wooden table and a plant.

and a microwave oven and some blankets to dry your hands and some glasses that would be my dream house
