

Hogget roast

Hogget roast is a tender and juicy piece of lamb seasoned with spices and baked. It is cooked with potatoes, sweet potatoes, peas and pumpkin. Once it's ready, bathe it with a delicious mint sauce and eat!

Hāngi

Hāngi, more than a typical New Zealand food, is a cooking technique of Maori culture. Basically, a furnace is dug into the ground and heated with volcanic stones. Then, the meats and vegetables that are put there are steamed.

Lamingtons

Lamingtons are square biscuits prepared with butter and flour. Once they come out of the oven, they are covered with chocolate and coconut zest. On top, on some islands of New Zealand, they are filled with raspberry jam.

Pavlova

This cake is a crispy cake covered with plenty of whipped cream. In addition, it is garnished with chocolate and many fresh fruits: strawberries, blueberries and kiwis, which abound on the island.
