Introduction

We live in a world of nearuniversal acceptance that once our lives on the earth come to an end we continue to a greater world.

Whether that destination is called heaven or simply the other side, tradition teaches us that there is, in most cases, a fairy tale ending to life: a place where joy and harmony reigns supreme.

The story in this book illuminates moments when unusual circumstances, such as sudden death, unresolved emotions, abusive relationships, and painful family dynamics, make it necessary for the dead and the living to find new doors for healing.

The survivors and the deceased meet again in encounters that are profound, bitter sweet, highly emotional, and some times downright funny. That depends on what has happened in their lives and lessons to learn, about heaven and earth.

Life Between heaven and Earth is an inspiring, thought provoking, path changing work that affirms that no matter how complicated a circumstance, resolution, peace, and acceptance can be found in profound ways and notable

Francesco ^{Earth} life between heaven and

It begins when a man named Francesco dies of an illness and he feels very sad. Upon reaching heaven he felt that a breeze refreshed him meeting an angel named Ariel in heaven.

In this very place a teacher taught Francesco, told him how he should have been his life and that he would enjoy every moment of life, even if things happened to him. Bad things or things that make you feel sad.

The next teacher taught him how he should have realized his dreams, and that to achieve them he had to dream them and fight hard until he achieved them. The next day the angel Ariel Francesco to the park of memories, where he saw when he was a child and other stages of his life in which he regretted having done bad things with his wife, his children and his parents and if he could change them I would have done that.

Spending another day in heaven Francesco met his guardian angel and he asked what his name was and the angel answered that he had no name and that.

They would take advantage of the fact that they were getting to know each other so that I could put one on it, deciding Francesco put Pancho, for which the angel said that it sounded like the name of dog but that was okay because the angel liked dogs.

Another teacher who taught Francesco to overcome his fears, telling him that fears were divided into good and bad.

Good fears are the ones that prevent you that you do something that affects you and the bad fears are the ones that paralyze you and do not let them do thing.

Francesco in heaven celebrated his 56th birthday surrounded by little angels who were very happy, Francesco telling the little angels that he did not like birthdays because he felt older, the little angels answering that each year of life was a gift from God.

As the days passed, they showed him their garden and that the roses grew every time their relatives did good things and were happy, in their garden there was a big tree that gave a lot of shade, laying down until Francesco fell asleep.

This has been a novel full of reflection on life, on how we can handle it and what actions in life can be wrong, and that death has its process just like life, Francesco draws a great lesson.
