→ In the introduction of the story of the 3 little pigs, we know that they leave their mother's house to live alone and be able to support themselves, each one was very different, the first little pig and the second did not like to work so much and the third little pig was very hardworking, he did not like to play when it came to doing his job well.

→ In the climax, the three little pigs decide to each make their little house made of the materials that would be strong.

- The first little pig who liked to play and his instrument was the flute, he made his house out of straw which was easy for him to do and thus gave him more time to play.
- The second little pig had a flute as an instrument and was a bit of a worker, he made his little house out of wood.
- The third little pig had the violin as an instrument and he was very hardworking, he thought very well and made his little house out of bricks and cement so that it would be strong.

The next day a wolf appeared where the 3 little pigs lived. He saw a straw house and he smelled the pig inside, he thought the pig would make a mighty fine meal.

Then everyone opened the door and told the little pig to let him in and the little pig, seeing that it was the wolf, told him no, then the bad wolf blew so hard that he knocked down the straw house and so that they wouldn't eat him, he hid with his brother in the wooden house they same thing happened with the wooden house, the wolf blew so hard that he knocked it down and the two little pigs went with their brother, the one in the brick house and the wolf followed them very fast. Then the wolf smelled the 3 little pigs in the brick house and imagined the great meal he would have. then the wolf blew and blew very hard but could not bring down the house.
