I'm legend

-The darkness must be illuminated.

-My name is Robert Neville. I am a survivor living in New York City. I'm broadcasting on the entire AM band. I'll be at the South Street Harbor every day at noon, when the sun is highest. If you're out there, if there's someone out there,... I can provide food, I can provide shelter, I can provide security. If you're out there, if there's someone out there. Please. You're not alone.

-Bob Marley. I had an idea. It was more of a virologist's idea. He believed that racism and hate could be cured, literally cured, by injecting music and love into people's lives. One day, when he was going to play at a concert for peace, some thugs showed up at his house and shot him. Two days later, he went on stage to sing. Someone asked him why, to which he replied: "Those who try to make this world a worse place don't take a day off. Why would I?" The darkness must be illuminated.

-In the year 2009, a deadly virus spread over our civilization... bringing humanity to the brink of extinction. Dr. Robert Neville dedicated his life to finding a cure and restoring humanity. On September 9, 2012, at approximately 8:49 a.m., he discovered that cure. And at 8:52, he gave his life to defend her. We are his legacy. This is his legend. Illuminated the dark.
