What did you do on your holidays?

I visited my family in Mexico City, my father played soccer with my uncle and we support them, but my brother did not play with them.

Too my sister met a my grandmother for the first time and I drank a drink with my grandfather.

The following week we drove to the beach and we swam for a while, too we played in the beach.

Too we met the aquarium, but it was closed and we got sad.

When we returned home, my father changed his hobs, because i was bored with the old job.

For a week we only played board games in the afternoons, after that everyting went back to normal, my father went to his new hob, but my mother made me clean the house with my brother.

When another week passed I went back to school like I did before and that was all I did during the holidays.
