MY CHILDHOOD

When i was little I was fat I was very sentimental. My mother worked in communities and as I was the little she took me with her that's why it was difficult for me to adapt when I got in primary school. It wasn't all bad, since I learned in the traditional language because I had friends who spoke that language.

I didn't have good memories of my childhood but I played soccer and that made me happy I was good at playing so I made many friends and had fun However, barely socializing with other people because it was very unsafe
