This photograph is from several years ago, when the family gathered to celebrate Grandma's birthday. There are seven adults in it, there is my grandmother, my three cousins, two uncles and a niece, they all wear cold clothes. It is night, they are in a house painted yellow, there is a dining room with six chairs, with a white tablecloth, on the table there are some glasses, napkins. Behind the dining room there are two pieces of furniture with some wood and ornaments, on the other side is the brown door, on the right side there is another brown door, we can also see a pistachio-colored armchair, a television control.
