My grandmother has a house where there are 4 bedrooms that are on the second floor, one of which has a bed next to it, it has a chest of drawers where she keeps her clothes and light-blue curtains, a cabinet for the television, there is a bathroom with a shower and a mirror, and she also has a closet to hang clothes. At the bottom is the living room and there is the living room and there is also a room for visitors and she also has the kitchen where there is a refrigerator, a stove and kitchen things.

In his living room there is also a sofa and a table as well as a bookcase as his name says with books for us to read every time someone comes to his house he has a nice carpet a television a radio to listen to music there are also lamps in each corner of the living room, outside there is a beautiful garden, a pool, there is also a small table with its chairs to have breakfast in the open air where there are trees and grass with beautiful flowers where there is also a lot of peace and my grandmother likes to spend time has a fish tank where there are beautiful fish that I like to see where there is also a pool and we all go on Sundays
