Florence Nightingale was a nurse who saved many lives in the 19th century.

Florence was an unusual Young woman for her time because she didn't want to go to parties and get married. She wanted to be a nurse and help people.

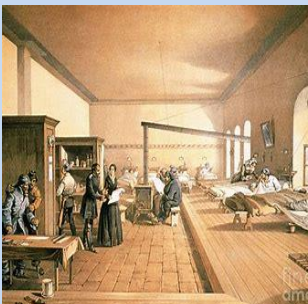

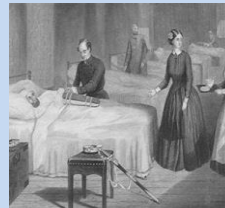

Florence went to Germany and learned all about nursing. It was hard work, but she loved it.

Florence walked around the hospital. She talked to the injured soldiers and helped the men to write letters to their families.

Army hospitals were filled with injured men, but there were no nurses and many men died. Florence and a team of nurses went to help.

Queen Victoria wrote her a letter to say thank you. She continued to work hard in Britain to improve hospitals and she was given a medal called the Order of Merit.
