My every day routine is pretty basic. During the week days I wake up early around 6 am to get ready for school. Then I take public transport around 7:10 so I can get to school at a good hour. After attending school for 6 hours I, just get back home to eat and do anything that I might need to do during that day.

My weekdays tend to be a little basic, I just wake up a little later than usual and just do anything like watch a movie, clean, binge watch a show or do some of my hobbies like , drawing, singing, and reading.
