Tell me about a mischief you did when you were a child (what did you do? Was it a dangerous event? Did your parents scold you?)

When I was a little girl I learned to sew. I liked doing dresses for my dolls. Sometimes my grandmother helped me to sew. I didn't have cloth. One day my grandmother asked for cloth. I used the underwear of my mom and cut it with that cloth. I made the dresses of my dolls. When my mother arrived, she looked for her underwear and she saw that it was cut and she scolded me. My mother got angry and she scolded me because it was new clothes, besides it was dangerous to use the sewing machine.

My parents and I went to fifteen years party, everything was quiet, and for the same reason I got bored, I found more children of my same age and we rang the bell of the whole block, but we did not realize that one of the houses where we rang the bell also was the switch of the hall where was celebrated the fifteen - years party. I got confused and thought it was a doorbell, so I turned the switch off. I left the house and the living hall, where the fifteen years party were celebrated, in the dark. Everyone thought that the electricity was gone, then they realized that the other houses did have light. The fifteen years party hosts searched over and over again for the switch, until they found it. After that, all the kids who played with me, blamed me, but they were all playing too, my parents scolded me and asked me to apologize.
