FUTURE PLANS

When I finish my nursing degree, I'm going to study human medicine, then I'm going to start my own practice to help other people, then I'm going to save to be able to visit one of the countries that I would like to visit, Korea and Japan then I'm going to start my own family, I'm going to get married and have children as long as my economic stability is good and I can support my family, and not only focus on myself and love myself. myself. to be able to love others.
