MY MISFORTUNE

I remember the date, it was May 19, 2013 My cousins and I were playing when Asia was running behind the kitchen when I saw a full bottle of cahuama and curiously I drank a little for myself. At that moment I said it's water. and my cousins told me to take it but my cousins at that time were older than me but the effects that were obtained were not from wáter and the effects of it were not so pleasant and at that moment what I said was that it was happening to me and to go running through the chanclaso's chanclaso I tripped when I did not notice a small hole and it buried itself in my foot and it was something dangerous for that after a year it stopped having sequels after what happened, my parents scolded me but it was a normal scolding because in parts they were to blame for seeing it left there.
