When I was 7 years old I was learning to ride a bicycle, that time we were visiting my grandmother's house, I was with my cousins playing with bikes when one of them thought of teaching me how to ride her bike, luckily for me the bicycle had no brakes and when I wanted to brake I couldn't and a car ran me over, But nothing bad happened because the car wasn't going very fast, but I did hurt my right arm, they told my mum about it that time and what she did was to hit me and scold me for being dumb, after that I didn't want to learn how to use it for fear that something like that would happen to me again.

Another incident could also be when I was in preschool, I climbed a tree to pull down mangoes that were in my school, but in the attempt I fell backwards on a rock and for a long time I was short of breath because of that blow, but nothing else happened, a few days later I got bruises on my back and my mother punished me for doing that.
