> Tell me about a mischief you did when you were a child (what did you do? was it a dangerous even? Did your parents scold you?).

When I was little, Once I kicked a classmate from preschool, while my friends and I were playing little golden bell. My parents scolded me because I kicked with boots on his forehead, and he was the son of the principal, also in another occasion, we were playing soccer at my cousin's house and a cousin kicked the ball and broke a mirror. His parents scolded him but we ran away so no one saw us, but no one got hurt.

After that in another occasion I cut my hair because I liked my aunt's fringe style, but I cut it very small and it looked like ugly, so that no one scolded me, I put clips in my hair.
