

Nombre del Alumno: Jacqueline Quiroga torres

Nombre del tema: Ensayo

Parcial: 1er parcial

Nombre de la Materia: Ingles

Nombre del profesor: José Jesús Hernández Landero

Nombre de la Licenciatura: Lic. Enfermería

Cuatrimestre: 3er cuatri

new spring festival

Chinese New Year, also known as the Spring Festival, is one of the most important and long-awaited holidays in Chinese culture. During this time, families come together to celebrate, reflect on the year that has passed, and welcome a new beginning full of hope and prosperity. Symbolic rituals and festivities full of joy are carried out. The preparations begin weeks before, with the cleaning and decoration of the homes, the purchase of gifts and the preparation of traditional dishes.

What benefits does all this have? Families gather to enjoy delicious banquets, with symbolic dishes that represent abundance and good luck, in fact they take this as a union for everything that comes later and to be able to be united and receive the following year, as they well. They say the new spring.

In general, because it is different from other festivals. The celebrations take place with family reunions and it has something similar to what New Year is in Mexico City, since people gather to start a new year, just that with specific characteristics in your event. What leads us to think that this celebration or festival as many call it is so good, their clothing is according to each family and each person, the controversy is that they call it Spring Festivals, but rather it would not be a festival as such , if not as a tradition that has been around for a long time and is celebrated as a family, and sometimes honors their beliefs.

In short, to give as purpose to this short essay, the spring festival. The Chinese New Year is a moment of great importance and joy in Chinese culture. It is a celebration that unites families, honors ancestral traditions and welcomes a new year full of hope and prosperity.

