My name is Yusari, I live in a neighborhood. It is called Costa Rica, the municipality of Frontera Comalapa. My neighborhood is not big but it does have a beautiful park where people can go to have fun in the afternoons and a court and a nice field and a dome and the beautiful thing about my neighborhood is that there are many rivers where you can go with your family to live together. We also have kindergarten and primary and secondary school. And we celebrate a tradition that is on November 20th, which is celebrated as the day of the Mexican Revolution and on the night there is a beautiful dance. And what is given every year is corn, beans, pumpkins, peanuts and the animals that are found in my colony are horses, armadillo, fox, rabbit, iguana, opossum. And the types of flowers given are the Crown of Christ, Christmas Eve, Bongambilia and tulip. And the Catholic Church that always celebrates all the traditions such as the Day of Christ the King is celebrated on November 20 and many people like to come and visit this beautiful place.
