In this essay we will see how the hospital staff presents themselves, the hours, the ways in which each member of the family is written and what needs to be done in the hospital and visiting hours. It is essential in this stage of nursing to be able to pronounce and write such a pronunciation since there are patients who can only communicate using this language.

Nurses use the twelve-hour clock when they talk to patients, visitors and colleagues ya que los pacientes pueden entender mejor los horarios , We often use the 24-hour clock for schedules, documents and charts, since this schedule must be used mandatory in documents such as filling out the nursing sheet so as not to make mistakes and since said control is maintained.

In this space we will talk about what should or should not be done when we are visiting our family member since it can cause some disturbance in the hospital. It is important to know these terms.

Please no

- touching wounds, drips, catheters or medical equipment.
- visit more than two at a time.
- use patient bathrooms.
- bring flowers to the rooms.
- visit the hospital if you have a bad cold, flu or diarrhea

Please do it

- visit between 2:30 p.m. and 2:30 p.m. and 8:30 p.m.
- turn off your mobile phone in the rooms.
- wash your hands when entering and leaving the room.
- Extinguish all cigarettes before arriving at the hospital.
- use the chairs provided.

Patient escorts undergo four weeks of employee training when they begin working at MD Anderson. In addition to learning our procedures for properly using and sanitizing equipment, handling specimens, preventing the spread of germs and infections, and reporting potential safety issues, they spend a lot of time shadowing experienced escorts and learning the way around our campus.

In conclusion, in this unit we learned that we must talk to certain patients about 12-hour schedules so that they understand more and notify them that they should not be admitted with any illness due to the hospital environment that can affect patients who are coming out of illnesses. that their relatives can know where to accompany them to do their laboratories, be present or wait
