¡ARA MACAO ECOTOURISM CENTER!

Walking tours and boat tours.

We are originally from the state of Oaxaca and belong to the Chinanteco ethnic group. On March 30, 1976 we left the Ojo de Agua municipality of Tuxtepec, Oaxaca. On April 11 of the same year we arrived at a town called Tlatizapan, today Zamora Pico de Oro, and it was not until 1980 that we officially formed the Reforma Agraria ejido with 40 families. Since the founding of the ejido we plan our activities and look for options to improve our economy. Starting in 1981 we worked with projects of corn, beans, cocoa among other crops but without success, it was not until 1985 when we started working on chili and currently it is a very important crop for our ejido.

In 1989 we started with some environmental education programs and this served to search for development for our community and the conservation of natural resources. In 1991, the project for the conservation of the Scarlet Macaw began, supported by the National Indigenous Institute (INI), putting 30 artificial nests.

In 1996, the Ara Macao cooperative society was formed with 16 members, managing resources for infrastructure with SECTUR. In this same year, the construction of the first cabins was achieved. In this way, our cooperative work group now made up of 20 members, men and women, has worked hard for the conservation of the species and the ecosystem, caring for the scarlet macaw and sharing our experience with visitors.
