On weekdays I get up at 6:30 in the morning, I get ready and go to school, leaving a friend at his house and then I go to eat with my parents, during the meal we talk a little about our show. day and then we agree on whether we are going to go out to run an errand or I start doing my homework, at night we have dinner at home and we sleep mostly late, on the weekends we take it very familiar and we get together agreement to go out as a family to eat or we go out to entertain ourselves, although now it is a bit complicated since my brother started studying on Sundays
