

Conversation with a family member

My sister's name is Ivana. She is 28 years old and is a doctor.

Their job is to help and safeguard people's lives.

She really loves job because she loves to help those who need it most and helps people every day to get better or have a dignified death.

Their work is exciting and tiring at the same time since when there are medical emergencies they have to be more attentive than normal.