TRAVEL PLANER GUIDE

Guadalajara, Jalisco, Mexico

Guadalajara is the second largest city in Mexico, there are many things you can do in the city as well as in its surroundings.

Also a great attraction of Guadalajara is the gastronomy.

When you visit Guadalajara you must try the Torta Ahogada, which is one of the best dishes they can offer you, as well as the different birrias that are in this area.

In the surroundings of Guadalajara there are different types of nature and recreational activities such as Lake Chapala or the Colomnos Forest, which are very close to the city.

85% of Lake Chapala is in Jalisco and the rest is in the state of Michoacan.

Soccer is one of the activities that you should visit, Guadalajara has its first division team of the Mexican league called Chivas, and its stadium called Akron, which is one of the best and largest stadiums in the Mexican Republic, many times in this Artists of very high recognition are presented so depending on the dates there may be one there.

Apart from soccer, there is also another sport with a lot of Mexican power, wrestling is one of the main activities that you can attend in Guadalajara, the place where this is presented is in the great coliseum located in the city of Guadalajara.
