

INTRODUCCIÓN:

¿Qué son los object pronouns y para qué sirven?

Los object pronouns o pronombres de objeto son una clase de palabras que se usan para reemplazar a un objeto que ya ha sido mencionado o que es conocido por el interlocutor. Estas palabras sirven para evitar la repetición y agilizar el discurso.

Fíjate en las siguientes frases:

- The book is on the table. (El libro está en la mesa.) Give the book to me, please (Dame el libro, por favor.) → Give it to me, please. (Dámelo, por favor.) Si le pedimos a nuestro interlocutor que nos dé un libro que ya hemos señalado o mencionado anteriormente, podemos usar un pronombre de objeto directo (it, en este caso) para no tener que mencionar el libro dos veces y evitar ser repetitivos.

My friends

As me walked into the room, me saw you talking to him. her was standing next to her, looking worried. I asked you to help me move it, but you told me to ask him instead. him said he would do it, but first, him needed to talk to them. They were discussing something in hushed tones, and me couldn't hear what they were saying. You came over to me and whispered that it was about her, and that him and them were trying to help her. I nodded, and we both watched as he carefully lifted it and handed it to them. They took it outside, and we all followed. As us walked, you turned to me and said, "me glad we could help her." me smiled, feeling happy that us had all worked together to support him and them.
