My name is Elvin.

I want to finish my studies in public accounting and continue learning, especially in the area of taxation. I want to start an automotive business and keep pursuing my passion, expanding it over time. At the same time, I want to open an accounting firm to help small, medium, and large businesses, and I want to become a recognized accountant whom people can trust with their assets. I want to have my own establishment, where I feel secure and can be my own boss. Additionally, I want to own my own house, where I can start a family and build a stable personal life. By achieving these goals, I want to make sure that I can provide everything my family needs and create a prosperous future.
