

SANTORINI

GRECEE

The island of Santorini is one of the Greek islands in the Aegean Sea, it was devastated by a volcanic eruption in the 16th century BC. C., which shaped its rugged landscape.

Santorini is not only famous for its views and architecture, but also for its unusually colored beaches.

Big box office hits like Mamma mia! (2008) and My Life in Ruins (2009) have been filmed here.

Santorini's cuisine is as charming as its landscapes and culture, as are the famous cherry tomato and feta cheese. In addition to food, the island of Santorini is recognized for its excellent quality wines.

Every sunset on the island is magical! As the time approaches, you will notice that many tourists begin to look for the ideal place to admire the colors in the sky. No matter where you see it from, in Santorini you will experience unforgettable sunsets

Santorini's famous white houses, with their blue roofs and cobblestone paths, are a hallmark of the island

Greece is a very religious country with strong roots in the Orthodox faith. The number of churches that exist on an island as small as Santorini already says it! In just 90 square kilometers you can visit 450 churches.
