THE PARK

It's two o'clock, and everyone is out at the park walking. The grass is green the sky is blue and the weather is beautiful. Everyone is wearing summer clothes and having fun. Children are walking their dogs along the pathway. There is a man selling ice cream for everyone to buy. The couple under the tree wearing T-shirts and shorts as they are reading their books. The children playing basketball are wearing their team uniform. Some of the children are running in a group with worrying faces, they are looking for a toy that the girl in a pink shirt and blue shorts lost. Two children sitting down on the bench are not roller skating yet but they look very excited and happy to do so.
