Tourist Places

Stonehenge: The iconic Stonehenge was built in several stages between 3000 and 1520 BC.

Palacio de Buckingham: Built in 1703 for the Duke of Buckingham, the building was purchased by King George III in 1762 for use as a private residence.

Torre de Londres: It dates back to the 11th century when William the Conqueror built the first version of the castle with the intention of protecting London and thus consolidating his power.

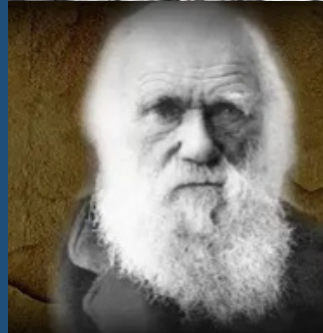

The flag of England is made up of the cross of Saint George, that is, a red Greek cross on white cloth.

Famous people

Isabel I de Inglaterra, apodada la Reina Virgen, Gloriana o la Buena Reina Bess, fue la reina de Inglaterra e Irlanda desde su ascenso al trono, el 17 de noviembre de 1558, hasta su fallecimiento, en 1603. Su reinado, de más de cuatro décadas, fue conocido como la era isabelina.

Charles Robert Darwin, commonly known as Charles Darwin, also called Carlos Darwin in part of the Hispanic community, was an English naturalist, recognized for being the most influential scientist of those who proposed the idea of biological evolution.

Traditions

The Sunday roast is a family tradition in Britain. It is a meal of roast meat (traditionally beef), roast potatoes, vegetables and Yorkshire puddings served with gravy. Sunday roasts are usually cooked at home, but are also served in pubs and restaurants across the UK and are usually eaten at lunchtime.

Traditional meals

It is due to a custom that arose thanks to the Duchess of Bedford in 1840, who on a hungry afternoon ordered a tea service with some light food such as cakes and, feeling so well, invited her friends to drink tea at 5

A pub is not like a restaurant: you have to go up to the bar to place your order. The signal to indicate that you are ready to place your order is to hold the money in your hand, so that the person behind the bar can see it. Once you have placed your order, you will be given a table number which you will place on your table.
