GERMANY-GERMAN

THE FLAG

Berlin, Germany capital, is a tourist destination. In the heart of the city stands the iconic Brandenburg Gate, a symbol of German unity and freedom. Built in 1791, this structure is highly recognized throughout the country.

Germany was a colonial power with territories in Africa, Asia, and the Pacific, leading to the spread of the German language and Germanic culture.

Frank-Walter Steinmeier is the current President of Germany. He lives in Bellevue Palace, a historic building dating back to the 18th century and used as the presidential residence.

The Völkerschlachtdenkmal (Monument to the Battle of the Nations) in Leipzig, commemorating the Battle of Leipzig of 1813, also known as the "Battle of the Nations", is considered one of the finest examples of Wilhelmine architecture, featuring numerous Masonic elements.

German food is characterized by including in its recipes bread, potatoes, meat, especially pork, and vegetables such as cabbage and kale, although the most typical is the Viennese schnitzel in a breaded and fried beef escalope.

Soccer is an integral part of German culture, with the sport enjoying unparalleled popularity across the nation, from televised matches to grassroots games on thousands of local pitches.

Oktoberfest: The world's largest beer festival, held annually in Munich, is a celebration of Bavarian culture and tradition, and an opportunity for people to come together and enjoy.
