

UNIVERSITY UDS

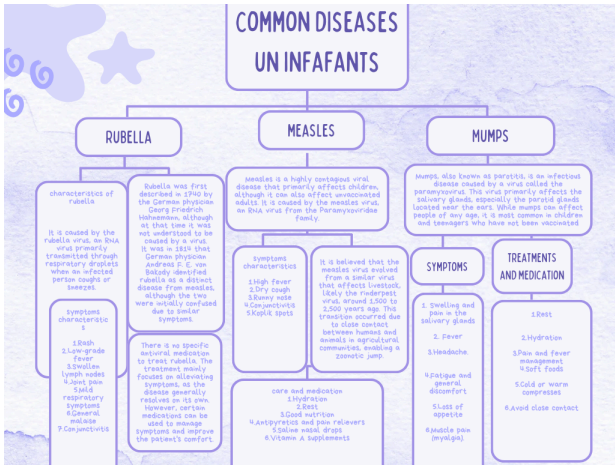

ENGLISH I

ENRIQUE EDUARDO
ARREOLA

CONCEPT MAP

JAQUELIN CRUZ VENTURA

16/11/2024

references

Rubella: 1. World Health Organization (WHO) provides an overview of rubella, its symptoms, transmission, and prevention, emphasizing the importance of vaccination:
WHO - Rubella Fact Sheet.

2. Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) offers extensive information about rubella, including symptoms, complications, and prevention:
CDC - Rubella.

3. Cleveland Clinic provides an overview of rubella symptoms, risks, and prevention strategies:
Cleveland Clinic - Rubella.

Measles: 1. National Foundation for Infectious Diseases (NFID) on Vitamin A and Measles
This article explains how vitamin A supplementation can reduce the severity and mortality of measles, especially in children, and emphasizes the importance of vaccination:
What You Should Know about Measles and Vitamin A.

2. World Health Organization (WHO) Position Paper on Measles Vaccines
Provides in-depth information about measles vaccines and their role in preventing outbreaks, including the recommended schedule for the MMR vaccine:
WHO Measles Vaccines Position Paper.

Mumps: 1. CDC - Mumps: <https://www.cdc.gov/mumps/index.html>

2. WHO - Mumps: <https://www.who.int/news-room/fact-sheets/detail/mumps>