Name: Count Dracula,.

Height: He's tall and slender, with an elegant and slightly cartoonish appearance.

- Complexion: As a vampire, he has very pale skin.
- Hair: Black and slicked back, giving him a sophisticated and somewhat dramatic look.
- Facial Features: He has pointed ears, expressive eyes, and a sharp face. His fangs are visible when he smiles or gets excited, but he doesn't look menacing.
- Outfit: Dracula is always dressed in a formal black suit with a long cape lined in purple, adding a classic, mysterious flair to his style.

Personality

Rather than being a terrifying villain, the Hotel Transylvania Dracula is a charming, funny character. He's an overprotective father, especially regarding his daughter Mavis, and is deeply committed to running his hotel—a haven where monsters can relax and be themselves without worrying about humans. Drac is a bit neurotic, particularly when it comes to keeping the hotel safe for monsters and avoiding humans, but over the course of the series, he becomes more open to humans, largely because of Mavis's relationship with Johnny, a human who eventually becomes his son-in-law.
