The Inverted House Poland.

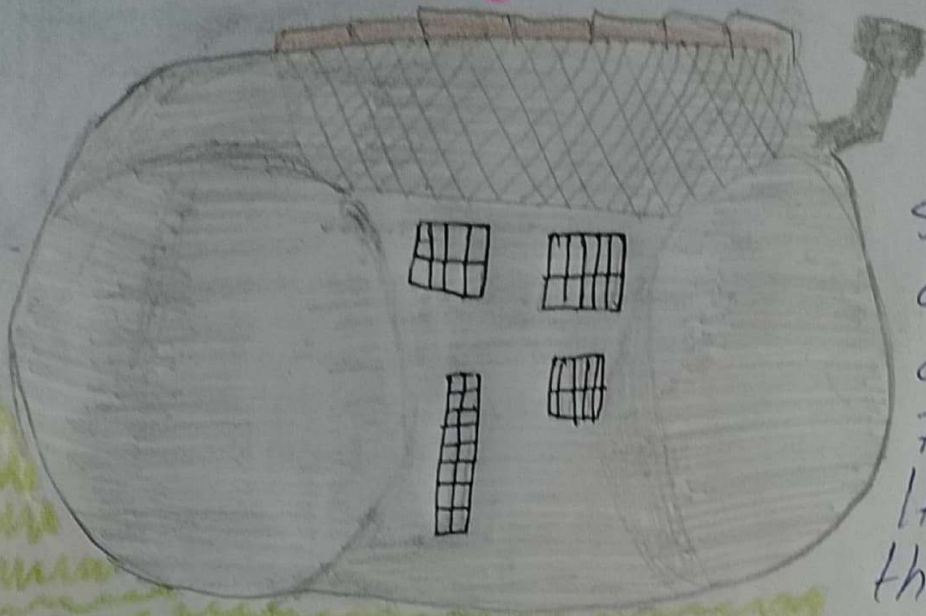

The upside down house was created by Daniel Czapiewski to illustrate the communist era and paint in an original way the changes that have taken place today.

The Mushroom House, Ohio United States.

It has a very strange shape, whose originality was traced by the architect Terry Brown, in the Hyde Park neighborhood of Cincinnati, Ohio, between 1992 and 2006. The seta house features a single bedroom, copper ceilings and an entertaining spiral staircase entrance.

The Stone House, Portugal.

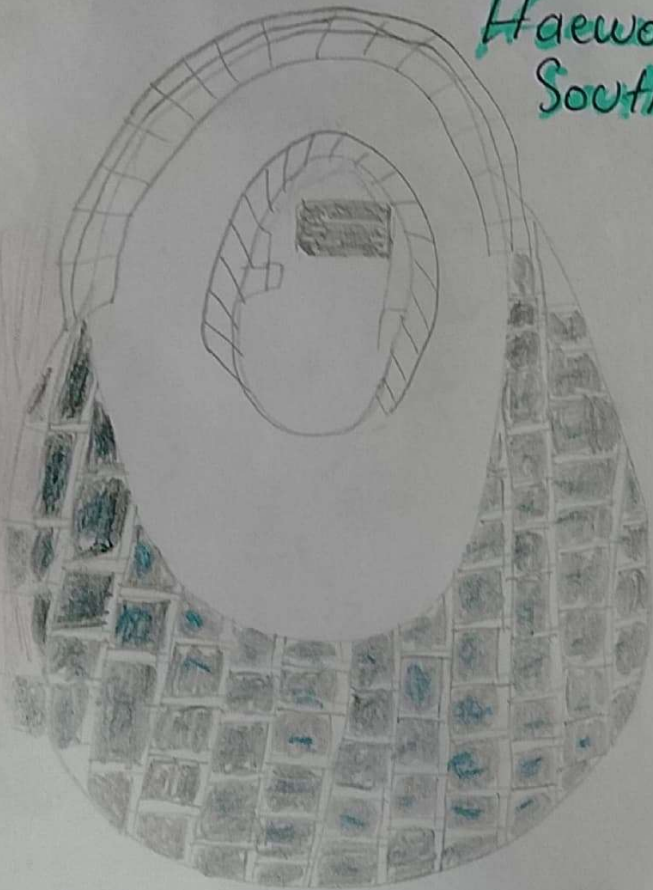

This construction was made with for large rocks, which give shape to a rustic building that is located in a picturesque town in the Fafe Mountains, Portugal. It should be noted that the Casa de Piedra is equipped with all the comforts of an ordinary home.

The Toilet House or

Haewoodae,
South Korea.

In fact, it even has a swimming pool for entertainment and relaxation.

This house was built by Sim Jae-dock, former head of the world toilet association organization. This building was made in order to raise awareness about the need to optimize public health. The Toilet House has 419 square meters, 4 bedrooms and three luxury bathrooms.
