Inusual homes

The tea pot house.

It's a simple and small house, shaped like a tea pot. It's somewhat old. It's red and white color and has 2 windows on each side. It's made of bricks and metal. It's too small to live in. It's located in Washington, United States and has significant value, since in 1992 "The tea pot house" was built due to the corruption incident's surrounding President Warren G. Harding.

The Crooked house.

Is a house of peculiar shape, made of bricks, with small windows. It's a house that cannot be lived in. Solitary and peaceful place, surrounded by vegetation in Poland.

It was designed in 2004 and transmits a feeling of "dizziness" and uncertainty when looking at it.
