Last year, I aimed for one of my main short goals, and I came close to achieving it CONADE 2024.

Going to the CONADE Nationals is a goal for many high performance athletes. My story began when I was training hard for half year. At the state level, I won two fights and advanced to the final, which was very tough, but a spinning kick to the head earned me 5 points, so I qualified for the regional stage, representing Chiapas in the under 20 - 54 kg category in the city Villahermosa, Tabasco. There, I also won two fights, not easily, but in the final, I lost to the local opponent, losing both rounds by a significant margin. However, my rival entered the national medal table with a bronze medal. This was my year in competition, and I think I will give my best quality for the CONADE National 2025.
