Nurse: Good morning, doctor. How are you doing?

Doctor: Good morning, nurse. I'm fine thanks. And you?

Nurse: I'm fine too, thank you. I wanted to talk to you about the patient who was admitted to the emergency room last night.

Doctor: Yes? What is the problem? Nurse: The patient has a head injury and we are waiting for the results of the CT scan. However, I'm a little worried because his blood pressure is a little high.

Doctor: I understand. What is the exact blood pressure reading?

Nurse: The last reading was 140/90. Doctor: Hmm, that's a little high. Have you administered any medication to control blood pressure?

Nurse: No, not yet. I wanted to consult with you before doing anything.

Doctor: Well, we are going to administer medication to control blood pressure and we are also going to order an ultrasound to evaluate the head injury.

Nurse: Understood, doctor. I will make sure tests are done and medication is administered.

Doctor: Thank you, nurse. Keep me informed about the patient's status. Nurse: Yes, doctor. I will do that.
