GERA MAX'S TENNIS

CONTEXT

Everything happens on September 6, 2024, they invited me to the Gera MX concert in the front rows (important fact), I left work more or less 5 P.M. to San Cristóbal and from San Cristóbal to Tuxtla. I got there almost at 9 P.M.

I'm not a big fan, so I wasn't having such a good time apart from the fact that I was too tired from work and the trip.

GERA MAX'S TENNIS...

During 2024, in the month of September, I went to Gera MX's concert in the city of Tuxtla Gutierrez. My friends had left in the morning, but unfortunately, I left in the afternoon due to work. The point is that I went because I was committed since they had bought me the ticket.

I arrived at the Airbnb with my friends, and we went to the concert around 10 P.M. The concert started, and everything was going very well until a moment when I felt like I couldn't go on anymore. I stepped out for about 10 minutes, and when I came back, Gera was throwing caps and shirts into the crowd.

It might sound like a joke, but it's not. What happened next occurred just as I'm about to describe it:

I returned, sat in my assigned seat, and a friend, who seemed to notice I looked a little tired, sat with me. He was chatting with me while also paying attention to the concert. At that moment, Gera was still throwing things, and I started thinking, What would happen if the sneaker literally fell into my hands? That would be amazing, I said to myself.

Gera counted, 1, 2, 3, threw the sneaker, and without lying or exaggerating, I just had to move a little to the right, and the autographed sneaker landed in my hand. I didn't even stand up from my chair. At that moment, I became the biggest fan in the world, and I even forgot about my tiredness.

IN CONCLUSION...

I got so excited when I left the concert, our other friends were waiting for us. I called them by their names, they turned around, and, being true fans, they couldn't believe it.

I felt a bit of envy—why did the person who isn't a fan get it, and I didn't? But oh well. After all, it was a great concert, and I don't regret attending.

Now, the rapper's sneaker is part of the "decorations" in my room.
